Prosecution, Police, Court, and Victim Service data on Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, and Temporary Restraining Orders are collected and included in the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA) STOP Implementation Plan. The plan is updated every 3 years. TF members may have gotten a copy of this earlier (before I was added to the TF). Here is a link to the plan. Refer to pages 10-20 for data that we collect.

http://ag.hawaii.gov/cpja/files/2013/01/VAWA-Implementation-Plan-FY-2015-2017.pdf

The Research and Statistics Branch produces the annual "Crime in Hawaii" report as part of the National Crime in the U.S. report, a FBI program. The police are behind in submitting data so we have not released a 2013 state report. We do have a 2013 report for the City and County of Honolulu. Pages 28, 30, and 32 includes Offenses Against Family and Children. This is a FBI category so the category is a bit broad and includes domestic violence and other offenses.

In regard to existing gaps, the state and the city do not have an operational DV data collection system.

B. Crime Statistics and Victim Services

1. Domestic Violence

The four county police departments (Honolulu, Hawaii, Maui, and Kauai) have mandatory arrest policies for the Abuse of Family or Household Members statute (ABFHM) HRS § 709-906, which is a misdemeanor offense for the first conviction. It is a Class C felony for any subsequent offenses of abuse of a family member that occurs within two years after a second misdemeanor conviction of this offense. The law enforcement standard for mandatory arrest for abuse of household members is "visible injury or complaint of pain." Figure 2 below shows the total arrests statewide and by county for Abuse of Family or Household Members based on the Hawaii Criminal Justice Data Center's (HCJDC) statewide criminal history record information system (CJIS-Hawaii). All arrests are entered by each county into CJIS-Hawaii. Between 2008 and 2012, there has been an 18% increase statewide in ABFHM arrests with the highest increase in Maui County (40%). Increases in arrests can be due to a number of reasons, including, but not limited to, more incidents of abuse, victims more likely to report to the police, or a change in reporting requirements or reporting systems.

Source: Hawaii Criminal Justice Data Center - CJIS-Hawaii data

Domestic violence incidents can also be classified under a multitude of other related offenses, ranging from a felony arrest for assault to a misdemeanor arrest for harassment, or a property offense (e.g. criminal property damage). The Abuse of Family arrest numbers are only a portion of the total domestic violence incidents that occur in Hawaii. Each county records their domestic violence data differently. In Honolulu, all incidents and arrests related to domestic violence are tracked by the police department regardless of the arrest charge. For every arrest, officers are asked to identify if the case involved domestic violence. When analyzing the Honolulu Police Department data, it was clear that approximately twice as many domestic violence arrests are classified under an arresting charge other than Abuse of Family or Household Members. This data was not available for the other county police departments. Also missing from this data are the un-reported incidents of domestic abuse. Non-reporting of domestic violence incidents to law enforcement can be due to a variety of reasons, such as fear of re-victimization, cultural inhibitions, and frustration with the criminal justice response.

The Family Court in each of the four Circuit Courts issues temporary restraining orders and protection orders in domestic violence cases involving family or household members. Statewide, protection order filings have increased by 14% with the largest percentage increases in the Fifth Circuit (33%), Second Circuit (16%), and First Circuit (15%).

Source: Judiciary, Annual Reports

Arrests for violations of Temporary Restraining Orders (TRO) have increased statewide by 40% between 2008 and 2012. The largest increases occurred in the counties of Hawaii and Honolulu with 200% and 40% increases respectively. Figure 4 has the complete county breakdown. Arrests for violations of Protection Orders have increased statewide by approximately 5% between 2008 and 2012. Maui County, however, saw a 50% increase in arrests for violations of Protection Orders during the same time period.

All of the prosecutors' offices primarily use a vertical prosecution model for domestic violence cases. Deputy prosecutors also handle felony offenses that have a domestic violence connection. Table 1 lists the county prosecutors' cases received for Abuse of Family or Household Members and their outcomes. The case numbers do not equal to the total number of the different disposition categories because of carryover cases.

Domestic abuse murders include not only intimate partners and former partners, but also non-intimate familial relationships (such as siblings, parents, and children) and non-related individuals residing in the same domicile (e.g., roommates, tenants, and children of partner.) The average annual rate of domestic abuse murders over the five-year period of 2008 to 2012 is 9.2 and for domestic abuse murders related to intimate partners, the average annual rate is 5.4. Refer to Table 3.

There are several agencies throughout the State providing services to victims of domestic violence. Data was collected from eleven non-profit agencies (five on Oahu, one on Hawaii, two on Maui, one on Molokai, and two on Kauai) providing domestic violence related services. In the Table 4, agencies provided total unduplicated clients served. One client could be provided multiple services throughout the year but for the purposes of this report, agencies were asked to count each victim/survivor only once within each type of service. Between 2008 and 2012, the number of victims/survivors served increased statewide by 12%. There was a greater increase in 2009 and 2010 when the total numbers served reached 8,753 but the numbers of victim/survivors served decreased in 2011 and remained steady in 2012. The number of hotline calls received has decreased by 12% between 2008 and 2012. Counseling services and victim advocacy services both saw increases between 2008 and 2009 and have remained relatively static since then. Crisis intervention services have declined by 33% between 2008 and 2012. The fluctuation in the number of victims/survivors served and the types of services they are receiving can be due to a variety of reasons such as changes in funding, types of services offered at each agency, types of services needed by clients, or other reasons related individual agencies' data systems and/or circumstances. There was one agency that was unable to provide data for 2008 which may slightly skew the annual numbers for that year.

There are nine shelter facilities statewide (three on Oahu, two on Hawaii, one on each of the islands of Molokai, Kauai, and Maui), and one for military victims and dependents only. The Department of Human Services contracts with seven non-profit entities to operate and provide emergency shelter and support services. Six of the seven agencies operating the shelters statewide provided data regarding the number of individuals served. The numbers below are not inclusive of all shelters within the State due to data collection issues. Table 5 shows significant increases in usage of shelters by victims and their family members.

2. Sexual Assault

Reported incidents of forcible rape in Hawaii, which is defined under the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program as "the carnal knowledge of a female forcibly and against her will," decreased statewide by 23% between 2008 and 2012. The number of arrests for forcible rape increased from 2008 to 2009 then remained steady until decreasing between 2011 and 2012 by 27%. Over the five-year period of 2008 to 2012, however, the number of arrests for forcible rape remained almost the same. In 2014, the definition for forcible rape will change to "penetration, no matter how slight, of the vagina or anus with any body part or object, or oral penetration by a sex organ of another person, without the consent of the victim", which will change the way data on forcible rapes will be captured.

Sexual Assault in the First Degree is defined in HRS § 707-730 as occurring when: The person knowingly subjects another person to an act of sexual penetration or sexual contact by strong compulsion. The arrests for Sexual Assault in the First Degree may be captured in the UCR definition of forcible rape but also could be different depending on the circumstances of the case. The definition for sexual assault in the Hawaii statutes is broader than the UCR definition for forcible rape. Using data from the HCJDC, Table 7 below has the total statewide and county arrests for sexual assault by varying degrees. The number of arrests for total sexual assault charges increased between 2008 and 2012 from 768 arrests to 1,022 arrests. Arrests for Sexual Assault in the First Degree rose by 52% between 2008 and 2012. The increase in arrests can be due to a number of factors such as an increase in victims reporting incidents, a change in police response, or an increase in incidents.

The sexual violence services are provided by four programs which provide 24/7 services to adult and minor victims of sexual assault: one on each of the islands of Oahu, Hawaii, Maui, and Kauai. The programs are Kapiolani Medical Center for Women and Children Sex Abuse Treatment Center, YWCA of Kauai Sexual Assault Treatment Program, Child and Family Services Sex Assault Support Services of Maui, and the YWCA of Hawaii Island Sexual Assault Support Services. Services are offered on the island of Molokai through Child and Family Services on Molokai. The continuum of services includes 24/7 on-call crisis intervention (for immediate attention, information, and referral service), medical/legal examinations (includes crisis counseling, legal systems advocacy, outreach, and case management), therapy (includes case management and legal advocacy), prevention/education, and administration and capacity building services. There are other domestic violence or dual DV and SA agencies who provide other sexual assault related services to their clients. Data in Table 9 below was collected from six non-profit organizations (two on Oahu, two on Hawaii, one on Maui, one on Kauai). Agencies were asked to provide an unduplicated number of victims/survivors served by their agency. The number of victims / survivors of sexual assault served increased between 2008 and 2012 by approximately 20%. Most of the sexual assault related services increased during the five-year period with the exceptions of legal advocacy/court accompaniments and outreach/education. Hospital and medical support remained approximately the same during the five-year period. The data is limited because not all agencies providing sexual assault services provided data. One agency was unable to break out their medical support, legal advocacy, and advocacy services. In addition, there may be a small margin of duplicated clients due to data system limitations.

3. Stalking

Harassment by Stalking, a misdemeanor (HRS § 711-1106.5), requires that the perpetrator intends "to harass, annoy or alarm another person or in reckless disregard of the risk thereof, that person engages in a course of conduct involving pursuit, surveillance or non-consensual contact upon the other person on more than one occasion without legitimate purpose." "Non-consensual contact" is defined as "any contact that occurs without the individual's consent or in disregard of the person's express desire that the contact be avoided or discontinued." Aggravated Harassment by Stalking (HRS § 711-1106.4) is a Class C felony, in which the perpetrator has a prior conviction for Harassment by Stalking within the past five years of the present offense. The victim of harassment need not be the same from the prior offense. According to data from HCJDC, statewide there were only 27 arrests for Harassment by Stalking in 2008, 26 arrests in 2009, 23 arrests in both 2010 and in 2011, and 27 arrests in 2012. In 2010, there was one Aggravated Harassment by Stalking arrest.

Table 10 lists the county prosecutors' cases received for Stalking and their outcomes. The case numbers do not equal to the total number of the different disposition categories because of carryover cases. Stalking data was collected from Honolulu, Maui, and Hawaii counties. No data was available from Kauai County.

Re: Data collected by Family Law (AG)

Date: August 20, 2015.

The Family Law Division (FLD) of the Department of the Attorney General represents all state agencies that appear in Family Court. FLD has deputies on all of the islands. The matters that they appear on include DHS for Child and Adult Abuse, DOE for Truancy and other juvenile matters; DOH for juvenile matters and involuntary hospitalization cases; and the Office of the Public Guardian for guardianships for incapacitated adults.

The data that is kept is for statistical and case assignment purposes.

The child abuse and adult abuse cases frequently involve Domestic Violence. The logs of cases as they are brought into the court indicate the type of harm that is involved.

The most common harm or threat of harm is substance abuse of some kind, but domestic violence is also part of the picture in many cases.

This information is used only internally, but could be gathered if necessary. As noted, the data is mainly used for case assignment to the various deputies.

Child Welfare Services (CWS) Data Collection

- 1. What domestic violence data is collected?
 - a. CWS collects data to identify DV issues for referred families.
 - b. Information on service utilization for survivors, children, batterers, including service activities and outcomes is provided by contracted service providers.
 - c. Demographic information is also available.

2. Why is the data is collected?

The data is used for:

- a. The Family Violence Prevention Services Act (FVPSA) annual grant performance report;
- b. Department of Human Services (DHS) reports, including the DHS Annual Data Book and the CWS Annual Progress and Services Report;
- c. Individual family assessment regarding domestic violence is used for case assessment and service planning; and
- d. Aggregate data is used to evaluate trends, identify gaps in services, and plan future service array.

3. Any existing gaps in data collection?

a. CWS plans to add a code to distinguish CWS reports initiated through a TRO referral from other court referrals.

The Crime Victim Compensation Commission data collection regarding domestic violence is as follows:

- 1) What data is collected? The Commission tracks the number of applications received by the Commission that involves a crime involving domestic violence.
- 2) Why is the data is collected? This data is kept to comply with the requirements of the Commission's federal grant which requires the Commission to report the percentage of all applications that involve domestic violence.
- 3) Any existing gaps in data collection? The Commission is unaware of any gaps in its data collection.

Hawaii Revised Statutes 367 (1) –(8) details the mandates of the Commission on the Status of Women, with specific reference to developing long range goals, coordinating research planning, programming and action on the opportunities, needs, problems and contributions of women in Hawaii.

Data Collected: The HSCSW, while not a receptacle for data, does collect certain types of data specific to domestic violence including:

- 1. Logs of telephone calls from victims who may call the office for resources, referrals or assistance in navigating certain systems (i.e. family court, child welfare, divorce and/or custody, child support, etc.)
 - 2. Information on single heads of households with children
- 3. Information on how the wage gap affects low income women, particularly low income women of color (subsets of national and local data) (data which may intersect with the experiencing of violence)
- 4. Number of state sponsored domestic violence prevention programs, including awareness activities
- 5. State legislation relating to domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking, and harassment
- 6. Informal complaints relating to Title IX and the University of Hawaii and Hawaii Department of Education

Gaps in Data Collection: The gaps in data collection are primarily based on the fact that the HSCSW is not a formal data collector, but rather, an advocacy based agency. Therefore, we look to other agencies with data collection capability when searching for resources.

Hawaii State Coalition Against Domestic Violence Marci Lopes, Executive Director

The Coalition is not a direct service provider so we don't collect data. We do however pay for flights for victims needs to flee their island because of domestic violence. I have attached that report. We do not keep any identifying information on the victims and we never see the victims. We get all of the referral paperwork from our member programs and we just book and pay for the tickets.

My assignment however was to check with other Coalitions to see how they are collecting data in their states. I heard from all of my contacts that data is imperative for them. They use their data statems to determine which programs are having issues and need more monitoring, they use the data for public education, demographic information, and advocating for needed services.

West Virginia uses Osnium. Every program that provides DV services or received state for federal money to provide DV services enters data into that system.

Wisconsin- Just transitioned from Alice to Osnium. All programs that revcieve VOCA/VAWA/and FVPSA funds enters their data into their system

Illinois- Is way ahead of the game. They have the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority

Whether you are looking for crime statistics on your community, criminal justice research of state and national scope, or news about federal grants, this site will be a tremendous tool.

In addition to providing easy access to the latest criminal justice news and information, this site opens doors to the Authority's three major areas of operation: research, information systems, and federal and state grants.

The Authority's mission is to improve the administration of criminal justice in Illinois, and we believe an informed and involved public is perhaps our greatest asset in that endeavor.

The Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority dates back to 1973, when its predecessor developed information system standards for state and local government units.

http://www.icjia.state.il.us/public/

All programs that are providing domestic violence services enter data into this system.

The Illinois Police Department uses a system called LEDS-Law Enforcement Dats System All warrants, and convictions are in this STATEWIDE system that all lawenforcement and prosecutors have system access. They give the Illinois Coalition reports on their data, and they can run reports for any data needs they have in their state. Orders for Protection are entered into the system within 24 hours after the judge signs them.

I hope this information is helpful.

Domestic Violence Action Center is the only agency of its kind, providing unduplicated, specialized services to survivors of domestic violence. Programs have been designed with their needs in sharp focus. Helpline assistance, legal representation, client advocacy, support for families in the child welfare system suffering the harm of child abuse and partner abuse, community education, training and technical assistance for system reform are among the key services available by the Domestic Violence Action Center.

Agency staff focuses on safety planning, risk assessments, legal information, referrals, and accompaniments and can provide Hopeline cell phones, stalking kits, emergency cash grants for children's needs and assistance with scholarships to return to school. Staff carries a complex and potentially lethal caseload for court representation and community advocacy to help victims make the transformative journey to survivor. Facing the barriers, overcoming the fear and quieting the ambivalence while working, parenting, and making life altering decisions is best done with the support of compassionate, expertly trained staff.

DVAC is well known for its fantastic work helping the community understand domestic violence and helping survivors become free and self-sufficient...

"I am so grateful for my attorney, paralegal and every single person associated with DVAC. Aside from legal assistance and guidance, there was also a deep commitment, compassion, caring and support throughout the whole process."
